

Join us at DataWeek + API World 2013 Conference & Expo!

We've partnered with the second annual DataWeek 2013: San Francisco's largest data-centric conference where over 2,000+ developers, data scientists, executives, and entrepreneurs will converge around topics and technologies in big data, social data, open data, and data dev tools!

One DataWeek pass gets you into the entire week of events:

Get 25% off your DataWeek + API World pass here!

New to DataWeek is API World 2013 Conference & Expo, which is co-located with DataWeek at Fort Mason Festival Pavilion. API World will be the world's largest event that is 100% focused on the API Economy!

DataWeek + API World 2013 will host more than 80 exhibitors and 300 speakers across 150 sessions from the data industry's top companies including Google, Microsoft, IBM, Intel, Dun & Bradstreet, Factual, Mozilla and more. Over 20 summits, tracks, and workshops are part of the programming, including a half-day "Disqus Summit" about social data APIs, a full-day "Hadoop Summit", and a full-day "Marketing Intelligence Summit" focusing on data-driven advertising.

Together, the DataWeek + API World 2013 Conference & Expo will feature a weekend hackathon (Sept. 28-30), two days of technical workshops/courses (Sept. 30 – Oct. 1), a 2-day conference and co-located expo centered around the Fort Mason Center Festival Pavilion (Oct. 2-3), a technology hiring mixer, and over 20 partner events throughout the city of San Francisco.

We'll see you there!